Thermore Launches Thermore Aria®

Milan-based thermal insulation manufacturer Thermore S.p.A. has launched Thermore Aria®, an exceptionally lightweight and voluminous thermal padding suitable for ultralight down and packable down jackets. The insulation, which Thermore claims comprises 98-percent air, contains raw materials certified to the Oeko-Tex® Standard 100, and has been tested to be non-allergenic, highly breathable, non-toxic and free of perfluorooctanoic acid and perfluorooctane sulfonate.
