

sportstextiles.com

Home
About us
Contact us
Site Sponsorship
Privacy/Refunds Policy

Industry News

Go

International News
Business Management
Headlines by email
Events Diary

Search Technical Library

Go

Select Topic:

 denotes premium content

New Thermore insulation product is 98% air

09 July 2013

Insulation technology brand Thermore will introduce a new product called Aria at industry events this summer.

This new insulation is 98% air, the company said, and is ultra-light and soft with a high loft.

"Aria perfectly mimics the look of down when quilted with appropriately matched fabrics to the three selected weights of fill; 60, 115 and 170 grammes per square-metre," Thermore said in the build-up to the industry events. "It is hypoallergenic and does not contain any dangerous chemicals."

[\[back to news results\]](#)

This news item is brought to you by the WSA editorial team. WSA is the world's leading publication for performance & sports related materials. For magazine subscription details or to subscribe online now click here.